Telescopic Ratchet Lopper

These loppers are just the job for a spring clean-up. They are surprisingly light, with a well-built feel. I've given them a tough work out in the last couple of months, cutting tree branches up to 50mm (2in) thick and eradicating an old elderberry bush. The telescopic handles have been useful, extending to just under a metre in length. They've worn well - the blade is still sharp and the cut clean. I've no doubt these loppers will be with me for a long time to come.
